

The Norman and Florence Brody Public Policy Forum
of the University of Maryland School of Public Policy invites you to

A conversation with

DAVID FRUM

Hosted by DOUG BESHAROV

Sunday, November 1, 2009

5:00–6:30 p.m.

Friendship Heights Village Center

4433 South Park Avenue

Chevy Chase, MD 20815

(See map on back)

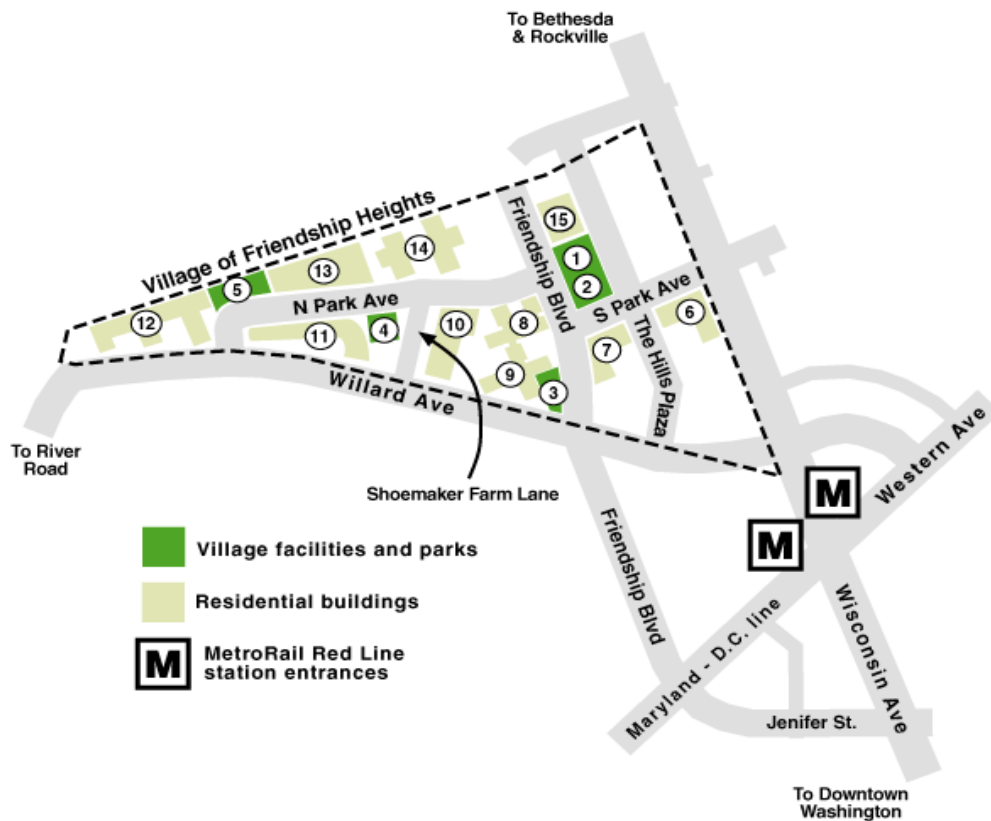

David Frum is the author of six books, most recently, Comeback: Conservatism That Can Win Again. In 2001–2002, Frum served as a speechwriter for President George W. Bush and is credited with helping coin the phrase “axis of evil.” Frum is a regular commentator on public radio’s “Marketplace” and a columnist for The Week and Canada’s National Post. He also edits the NewMajority.com website. He has spoken out against popular conservative pundits, including Rush Limbaugh, arguing that their “bombastic” brand of conservatism is the wrong direction for the Republican Party to take. He studies recent political, generational, and demographic trends and warns that the conservatism of the 1980s will have to revise and reinvent itself to compete in twenty-first century America.

Seating is limited, and will be available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

RSVP to Patrick Tiedemann at (301)405-4767 or ptiedem1@umd.edu.

Friendship Heights Village Center
4433 South Park Avenue
Chevy Chase, MD 20815

The Village Center is (1) on this map

Parking is available at the Courtyard Marriott open platform parking lot on South Park Ave (7).

For more information about this event, please contact Patrick Tiedemann at (301)405-4767 or ptiedem1@umd.edu.